25 groups triaged. Two tools, one job, read-only.

The one step that needs judgement: which groups first?

// THE HAND-OFF

THEN A SCRIPT ACTS ON THE ANSWER

25 triaged by the agent -> 4 promoted to the front of 27,981

4 OF 25

moved to the front of the queue. The agent decides. Code does the work.

The agent returns a list. A script builds the queue.

// THE COST

WHAT IT COSTS, BY HOW OFTEN YOU ASK

// THE HONEST BIT

WHAT WE DID NOT MEASURE

- Quality of the agent's picks
Unchecked. Treat the four priority 1 groups as examples, not a result.

- Cost
A 25-group sample at list price, extrapolated to the backlog.

- Our first Luma fix
It was wrong. We caught it by checking dates, not labels.

Measure cost + quality, or pay for retries.
